

Creek General Hospital:

The Clinical Trials Unit at Creek General Hospital (CTU-CGH) is committed to protecting participants' well-being and ensuring their active involvement throughout the research process. By placing participants at the heart of its operations, the unit prioritizes safety, comfort, and meaningful engagement in clinical decision-making processes.

Hospital Overview

Creek General Hospital is a 500-bed multi-specialty facility offering comprehensive healthcare services across the following departments:

- Medicine
- Surgery
- Obstetrics & Gynecology
- Orthopedics
- Pediatrics
- ENT
- Ophthalmology
- Cardiology
- Gastroenterology
- Neurology
- Nephrology
- Psychiatry
- Urology
- Pulmonology
- Infectious Disease
- Hepatology
- Oncology
- Interventional Radiology
- Neurosurgery
- Assisted Reproductive Technology

Licenses & Accreditations

- ISO 9001:2015

- Sindh Healthcare Commission (SHCC)
- Drug Regulatory Authority of Pakistan (DRAP)

CTU-CGH Facilities

- Fully equipped infrastructure and qualified staff to conduct clinical trials in compliance with ICH-GCP guidelines and applicable regulatory standards.
- Licensed in November 2021.
- Strategic collaborations through Memorandums of Understanding with Chughtai Lab and Aga Khan University Hospital Lab, two leading diagnostic and radiology networks in Pakistan.
- Partner laboratories accredited by the College of American Pathologists (CAP).

Future Ventures

- Establishment of a world-class Bioanalytical Laboratory to support pharmaceutical industries.
- Acquisition of regulatory license for a Bioavailability/Bioequivalence Center.
- Attainment of ISO 15189:2022 certification for the hospital's diagnostic laboratory.